Introduction

The Detroit Land Bank Authority was created to make vacant and residential public property available for sale in order to promote homeownership, neighborhood revitalization, urban agriculture and economic growth in the City of Detroit. The DLBA both develops and implements its own programs and cooperates with the departments and agencies of the City in order to carry out this mission.

Since 2014, the DLBA has implemented a series of programs to offer for sale the various types of properties that it holds. Based on this experience, the DLBA has determined that it is necessary and appropriate to implement a comprehensive policy to address the vacant land in its inventory. This Amended and Restated Vacant Land Policy supersedes all existing policies on the sale or lease of vacant land by the DLBA other than the Projects Procedures and Guidelines and the Community Partnership Policy. This new Vacant Land Policy is comprised of seven separate Chapters, some of which simply restate or refine existing policies or practices, while others offer newly developed programs for the purchase of vacant land from the DLBA inventory. In particular, several of these programs open new opportunities for neighbors to purchase land to improve neighborhood amenities, offer recreational opportunities or support urban agriculture.

Some chapters of this new Policy offer priority opportunities to individuals who live near the properties they want to purchase, or who can demonstrate the support of their neighbors, neighborhood organizations or block clubs. Another offers substantial discounts for those who can provide affordable housing in otherwise higher-priced neighborhoods. At the same time, purchasers who acquire vacant lots at below-market prices may be restricted under this Policy from changing their public-benefit use or selling them at a profit, unless they share those profits back with the DLBA to support additional public programs.

This new Policy should enhance both the speed and the efficiency with which the DLBA is able to sell its vacant property. One major improvement is that sales of Oversize Lots, Neighborhood Lots, Infill Housing Lots and Homestead Lots in accordance with this Policy will no longer require approval by the Land Bank Board of Directors. DLBA staff are developing the detailed rules, procedures and computerized support systems required to implement the new Policy, and the programs represented by each Chapter will each be announced on the DLBA website at buildingdetroit.org as they become available. These rules and procedures may be updated by staff periodically, and published on the website, based on the experience of administering this new Policy.

I. SIDE LOTS

A. Objective. To sell DLBA-owned vacant lots to owners of Adjacent occupied residential property to be used for residential, recreational or agricultural purposes.

B. Definition of a Side Lot. A “Side Lot” is defined as a parcel of property in the DLBA’s inventory that meets all the following criteria.

(1) The lot must be a vacant residential property without a structure.

(2) The lot must not exceed 7,500 square feet in size and it must not measure more than 300 linear feet on any side.

(3) The lot must be Adjacent to an applicant’s property that contains an occupied residential structure of 1-4 units (the “Applicant’s Occupied Property”). Side Lots are (a) vacant lots Adjacent to the Applicant’s Occupied Property (left side, right side, rear or diagonally behind, even across an alley, but not across the street); or (b) at the DLBA’s discretion, vacant lots Adjacent to a Side Lot, an Accessory Structure Lot, or an Oversize Lot, in each case that is Adjacent to the Applicant’s Occupied Property.

As shown in the map, the “house” represents an Applicant’s Occupied Property, this applicant could purchase as a Side Lot (a) any of the green lots; and (b) at the DLBA’s discretion, any of the yellow lots if the green lot between the house and that yellow lot is purchased first or at the same time. None of the red lots would be eligible as Side Lots to the owner of the “house.”

(9) The DLBA may choose to remove a property from Side Lot eligibility at any time and for any reason, including so that it can be sold pursuant to another DLBA Disposition Program or to otherwise support broader City strategies.

If the DLBA removes a property from Side Lot eligibility so that it can be sold pursuant to the DLBA's Projects Procedures and Guidelines, then the DLBA shall deliver a letter to owners of Street Adjacent lots (excluding lots across an alley) that would qualify as Applicant's Occupied Properties notifying them that the property will no longer be eligible as a Side Lot after a certain number of days.

VII. LAND REVIEW AREAS

A. Objective. In order to support inclusive and sustainable housing, recreational, agricultural, infrastructure and job-creating economic development in the City (collectively “Revitalization”) that provides a broad range of opportunities for its citizens, the DLBA recognizes four types of geographic areas where greater coordination and/or more intentional sales strategies are necessary, collectively referred to as “Land Review Areas:” Inclusive Housing Opportunity Areas, Jobs and Amenity Development Areas, City Project Coordination Areas, and City Project Hold Areas.

B. Definitions of Land Review Areas. There are four types of geographic areas within the City that comprise Land Review Areas.

(1) “Inclusive Housing Opportunity Areas” are areas of the City where on-market home sales have averaged $100/square foot, or more, over the last 12 months. These are areas where housing inclusivity is, or is most likely to become, a pronounced challenge.

(2) “Jobs and Amenity Development Areas” are areas of the City where City- and DLBA-owned vacant lots account for 33% or more of all parcels. These areas have large tracts of contiguous public ownership and consequently may create opportunity for the development of large-scale public or private Revitalization projects.

(3) “City Project Coordination Areas” are areas of the city where City planning, housing, infrastructure, economic development, or recreation agencies (collectively, “City Revitalization Offices”) have formally requested that the DLBA coordinate sales in connection with planned or ongoing Revitalization projects that are using or would use DLBA properties.

(4) “City Project Hold Areas” are areas of the city where City Revitalization Offices have agreements in place barring or restricting the sale of DLBA property in that geographic area.

C. Updates of Land Review Areas. At least once in each calendar year, the Executive Director, or his or her designee, shall prepare an updated map showing all current Land Review Areas, based on the data for on-market sales prices, City and DLBA property ownership, and current formal requests from and agreements of City Revitalization Offices. Each updated map shall be made available on the DLBA’s website and presented at a public meeting of the DLBA’s Board of Directors. If a given area falls within the definitions for more than one Land Review Area, it shall be identified on the map as being in only one Land Review Area, using the following priority.

- (1) City Project Hold Area
- (2) City Project Coordination Area
- (3) Inclusive Housing Opportunity Area

- (4) Jobs and Amenity Development Area

D. Approval of City Project Coordination or Hold Areas. In order to be identified as a City Project Coordination or City Project Hold Area, the appropriate City Revitalization Office shall provide the following information to the DLBA.

- (1) Whether the City Revitalization Office is seeking a City Coordination Area or City Hold Area. If seeking a Hold Area, the City Revitalization Office shall include a copy of relevant hold letters, agreements, or contracts.

- (2) The category(ies) of vacant land being requested and the geographic boundaries of the requested land.

- (3) The effective date of the request and the proposed expiration date.

- (4) For City Hold Areas, written details of the project, including, but not limited to, the name, purpose, boundaries, and partners.

- (5) Approval of the City Revitalization Office's director or deputy director, as well as the director or deputy director of any one of the City's Planning & Development Department, Housing & Revitalization Department, Jobs & Economy Team, or any successor agency of these.

- (6) The name and contact information for a City project liaison who can answer questions from the DLBA and the public.

E. Impacts of Land Review Areas. Sales of DLBA-owned vacant land located within a Land Review Area will be treated differently depending on the type of Land Review Area.

- (1) Inclusive Housing Opportunity Areas. The sale of Neighborhood Lots, Homestead Lots and Oversize Lots is prohibited in Inclusive Housing Opportunity Areas. Side Lot and Accessory Structure Lot sales shall be limited to one lot of any type per occupied home and limited to properties immediately Street Adjacent to the Applicant's Occupied Property and shall include the following additional selection criteria.

- (a) Purchasers shall be owner-occupants of the Applicant's Occupied Property and must have held title continuously for a period of 24 months before applying for the Side Lot or the Accessory Structure Lot.

- (b) The DLBA reserves the right to sell Side Lots and Accessory Structure Lots with a deed restriction prohibiting development on the parcel for a period of up to 10 years. Upon request by a purchaser, the DLBA may waive this deed restriction, provided; however, that if the purchaser could make a profit on the development of the parcel as a result of the waiver, the DLBA may charge a fee to be used to fund programs that serve the public.

- (c) A purchaser, or their predecessor in ownership of the applicable

Applicant’s Occupied Property, may not previously have purchased from the DLBA a Side Lot or an Accessory Structure Lot located in an Inclusive Housing Opportunity Area.

(d) The Applicant’s Occupied Property shall be an owner-occupied residential dwelling of no more than two units and must have a current Principle Residence Exemption.

(e) The Side Lot or Accessory Structure Lot shall be not more than 5,000 square feet in area.

(2) Jobs and Amenity Development Areas. The sale of Neighborhood Lots and Oversize Lots is prohibited in Jobs and Amenity Development Areas. Side Lot and Accessory Lot sales shall be limited to properties (a) that are Street Adjacent to the Applicant’s Occupied Property; and (b) where the lot is not part of a contiguous assemblage (including across alleys) of DLBA-owned land totaling 20,000 or more square feet. The DLBA may choose to make exceptions to these limitations in support broader City strategies.

(3) City Project Coordination Areas. The impact of these areas shall be dependent on the needs of the particular Revitalization project that justified the creation of that City Project Coordination Area. Unless otherwise requested by the applicable City Revitalization Office, the sale of Neighborhood Lots, Homestead Lots and Oversize Lots is prohibited in City Project Coordination Areas. Unless the City Revitalization Office request states differently, Side Lot and Accessory Lot sales shall be permitted but shall be limited to properties immediately Street Adjacent to the Applicant’s Occupied Property.

(4) City Project Hold Areas. Upon request by a City Revitalization Office and approval by the director or deputy director of any one of the City’s Planning & Development Department, Housing & Revitalization Department, Jobs & Economy Team, or any successor agency of these, the DLBA will hold specified inventory in a defined area for a specified term.
